Fund's Manager comment EDM Inversion-Spanish Equity

November was marked by high volatility in the markets. The main drivers were the debate over a potential overheating in the Artificial Intelligence sector and the shifting signals from the Federal Reserve regarding its next interest rate move. During the month, the U.S. government shutdown came to an end, and the third-quarter earnings season closed generally on a positive note.

In this environment, and despite the aforementioned volatility, markets overall were flat in November (S&P 500 +0.4%, Nasdaq -0.9%, Euro STOXX +0.3%), with the exception of the Ibex 35 Net Return, which rose 2.5%, once again driven by the banking sector.

EDM Inversión / Spanish Equity Class L also posted a flat performance in November, with the main contributors being Zegona, Banco Santander, Caixabank, Bankinter, and Iberdrola. The main detractors were Gestamp, Fluidra, Merlin, Indra, and Airbus. For the index, the top contributors were BBVA, Banco Santander, Iberdrola, Caixabank, and Ferrovial, while the main detractors were Telefónica, Amadeus, and IAG.

In November, most portfolio companies reported third-quarter results. The weighted average earnings per share of the portfolio rose nearly 15% in the 9M25 period, demonstrating its quality and resilience.

We highlight the very positive results from Amadeus, with sales, EBITDA, and Net Profit growing by 6%, 8%, and 8%, respectively, showing strong cash generation. However, news from Google about launching a new Al-powered platform for customizing travel caused the stock to drop 10%, giving us the opportunity to strengthen our position (we do not expect any impact on Amadeus' B2B distribution channel).

Viscofan delivered very strong results on a comparable and constant-currency basis, although slightly overshadowed by the impact of dollar depreciation. Like-for-like sales grew 7.5%, and Net Profit rose 4%. The stock is currently trading at multiples not seen since 2012, offering an excellent revaluation opportunity.
